Corrections: A Text/Reader provides the best of both worlds- authored text sections with carefully selected accompanying readings that illustrate the questions and controversies surrounding the punishment, treatment, supervision, and management of individuals who have been accused of or convicted of criminal offenses. The articles, from leading journals in criminology and criminal justice, reflect both classic studies and state-of-the-art research, and often have a policy perspective that makes them more applied, less theoretical, and more interesting to both undergraduate and graduate students.

- Includes a "mini-chapter” for each Section, with figures and tables that present basic concepts and provide a background for the Readings that follow
- Introduces students to cutting-edge research and classic studies of the corrections system by leading scholars in the field in carefully selected, edited research articles
